

The trouble of cheating (crib)

Did You ever in the exam, forget everything You crammed the last 3 days? How did You solved this problem, passed a blank sheet of paper or cheated?

All students behave differently in this situation. Some agree with destiny and two in the record book, and others decide to help happiness and to look at the paper of a friend or crib.

Cheating in the West is considered a fraud and not socially welcome. The one who withdraws, is perceived as the person with whom you should not talk.

We have, unfortunately, it looks different. There are obviously people with unwavering opinions, which are always prepared and ready for the exam, who do not approve of fraud. However, there are those for whom cheating is their daily bread. Such persons possess the art of cheating to perfection, not wondering what it takes to complete training, thus.

There are many ways to write off. Some use pre-prepared handwritten cheat sheets.

The next group of specialisou; this is a group who share material for study. Each member of the group organized specialistov handles fragments of notes or books, compressi their content and writes it as a text file. In the future, these Cribs will be printed (usually at the University) and used as a; textbook;.

The other, more lazy type of fraud, those who copy ready-made crib friends. Sometimes they don't even bother to read them before entering in the examination halls, resulting in nervously looking for the notes during the competition.

Traditionally, specialisti; feature; accordions; the folded paper printed in a small font. However, if the English teacher is not difficult to afford to use their leaves, they bring two clean paper writing service and two printed with gray letters of text. The effect is that the teacher cannot see from a distance that the paper is written, the student can easily rewrite printed on a clean sheet.

These methods, known for many years are increasingly being replaced with a set of gadgets. Pen with roll of paper and laser; this is the past.

Today, jubilant smartphones. Thanks to its ease of use, and you can easily download almost any file and a text too. Students before the exam only load the data into the web scripts that are circling on the network and notes. During the test, they just removed the phone from his pocket and entering the keyword which guarantees the necessary theory. Sometimes, photos of tests in an instant be on the Internet, so that friends; photographer; was able to help him solve them.

Legend has it that there are those who invest in science, or rather pseudo-science i.e. smartphones, the hire of wireless headphones and glasses with camera so that anyone on the other end of the phone, looks up and gives a complete and comprehensive answer to the question, for some; this is the norm.

As You can see, methods of cheating, there are many. Nevertheless, it is necessary to think, whether to do it.

The number one argument in favor of; not worth it; ; it is loyalty to friends. Should not be that ambitious person that found the time in the training will receive a worse rating than that which withdraws at each exam. In this case, the only form of withdrawal scams this is the social stigma that is sometimes stronger than reports or complaints.

The second reason why you should refrain from cheating, the faithful themselves. While studying at the UNIVERSITY, we want to develop, to acquire knowledge, broaden their horizons. Taking we step back in development. So we do not train our mind and make it lazy. We must also ask ourselves or would we, so we did the operation the doctor who constantly cheated?

The third argument against such fraud legal consequences. In universities, for cheating on the exam under someone else's work or plagiarism, threatening serious consequences. The most difficult and severe of these is expulsion from the UNIVERSITY. Not worth it to risk losing the grade book. It is better to take the exam later, honestly and without any stress.

How much can You do to finish the training up to us. It is, however, to remember that the wrong choice can have serious consequences. Before you pull the crib, consider whether. Maybe better to worse rating, but happy that it was obtained through his own efforts and perseverance, and not cheating? Everyone decides himself, but to prevent cheating, can all students. You just need to stop taking it and admire those who brag about how much they managed to write off. Specialisti, feeling that they do not approve of stop to cheat, or at least will not brag about it and encourage others to do so. It will be a small step towards a fair estimate and end this disaster with as cheating; one of the largest illnesses of students.
